Re: committee B.11 5/44

It came to my attention that the WFW may be losing funds or being switched over to DCE. If this was to occur it would affect all the families that are being served by WFW. Thanks to WFW I have learned a lot about my child development and how to support him when he really needs me. They have also provided with Diapers, books and clothing for my son. But most important help us teen moms.
